ROSE BOWL QUEEN—Ann Mossberg, 19-year-old coed from Pasadena City College, has been selected Queen of the Tournament of Roses and will preside over festivities in Los Angeles on Jan. 1. Miss Mossberg, whose parents were born in Sweden, will be attended by six princesses. She is the tallest of the group, standing five feet, seven inches.

NEW AMBASSADOR—President Eisenhower has selected Douglas MacArthur II, above, as the new U. S. ambassador to Japan. MacArthur, 47, long-time employee of the State Department, is a nephew of the World War II commander, Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

LOSES NO TIME—Alice Slezak, 23, in the U. A pre-medical student, Miss Slezak said she was dismissed from the University of Budapest in 1954 after disagreeing with a Russian physiologist.

ATTACKED—The Rev. Paul Turner, 33, Clinton, Tenn., Baptist minister, was assaulted by pro-segregationists soon after he escorted six Negro students to integrated Clinton High School. He suffered minor facial cuts and bruises in altercation.

Federal Judge Takes Up New Racial Violence

May Issue Contempt Warrants; High School Is Forced To Close

CLINTON, Tenn. (AP)—A federal judge at Knoxville was scheduled today to take up Clinton's newest outbreak of racial violence.

U. S. Dist. Judge Robert L. Taylor said he will decide whether to issue contempt of court warrants for persons accused of taking part in violence which caused the Clinton High School to close indefinitely Tuesday.

A Baptist minister, a white man, was beaten after he escorted six Negro students to the school past a jeering crowd. Inside the school a teacher was jostled by one of two youths who appeared at her classroom door and asked "Where's the niggers?"

An explosion shook the Negro section of Oliver Springs, six miles west of here, Tuesday night. No injuries and little damage were reported. The blast, apparently tossed from a car, exploded in the yard of Arvil Hall, 49, a Negro house painter.

In the midst of this racial turmoil Clinton residents turned out in record numbers Tuesday to vote 4-1 against pro-segregation candidates in a municipal election.

Former Mayor T. L. Seiber received 1,241 votes to 343 cast for James C. Meredith, who had the backing of the White Citizens Council.

However, neither candidate had taken a stand of the segregation issue.

Two alderman candidates supported by the Citizens Council also were defeated.

Seiber told newsmen Tuesday night he prefers separate but equal school facilities but "that doesn't change the fact that the recent decision of the courts provide otherwise." He said he was going to "abide by the law and expects everyone else to."

In answer to a demand for help, Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell wired the Anderson County School Board last night that federal agents would investigate the Clinton situation and prosecute "those responsible for willful violation of court orders."

He told the board, however, that "the primary responsibility for keeping law and order . . . rests upon state and local authorities."

Gov. Clement Agrees
Gov. Frank Clement agreed with this view and said, "I have had no official request (for help) from the officials of Anderson County or Clinton."

Clement sent state troopers and National Guardsmen into Clinton Labor Day weekend after admission of 12 Negro pupils among 800 whites at Clinton High led to a week of disorders.

Water Usage, Income Show Slight Drop

Aubrey Hayes, superintendent of utilities, reported today that the city pumped 41,616,000 gallons of water during November, a decrease of 382,000 gallons under consumption in November, 1955, when 41,998,000 gallons were pumped.

The figure placed the amount of water consumed here through November this year at 502,218,000 gallons. Through November in 1955, usage totaled 527,712,000 gallons.

Hayes attributed the decrease in consumption here to less usage by some industries which operated at a capacity below that of the previous year.

Water income last month was $13,194, compared with November, 1955 when the yield was $13,968. The 11-month total income this year was $168,146 compared with $168,639 collected during the first 11 months of 1955.

One hundred eight new water services were added this year.

Income from the sewer tax was $8,112 in November, increasing this year's total to $85,982. In 1955 through November the total income was $75,494. For November alone in 1955 the income collected was $6,700.

Ordinance Would Hike Rates 23.7 Per Cent

Substitute Gas Increase Proposal Offered By Firm

Salem City Council Tuesday night gave first reading to a counter ordinance presented by the Natural Gas Company of West Virginia and calling for an average increase of 23.7 per cent in gas rates for the next three years.

The increase would total 19 per cent the first year and 26 per cent the second and third years.

The proposed rates are as follows:

First year — 15 cents per 100 cubic feet for the first 1000 cubic feet each month; 8½ cents per 100 cubic feet for the next 4,000 cubic feet; 6.8 cents per 100 cubic feet for the next 95,000; and 6.5 cents per 100 cubic feet for all in excess of 100,000.

A minimum charge of $1.50 per month would be in effect the first year.

Rates for the second and third years would be — 25 cents per 100 cubic feet for the first 800 cubic feet per month; 7½ cents per 100 cubic feet for the next 4,200; 7¼ cents per 100 cubic feet for the next 95,000; and 7 cents per 100 cubic feet for the next 100,000; and 6½ cents per 100 cubic feet for all in excess of 200,000. The minimum charge during the second and third years would be $2 per month.

The ordinance also included a clause relating to rate adjustments here resulting from the merger of Natural Gas with the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., anticipated in January. The clause reads:

"At such time as a merger between the Natural Gas Company of West Virginia and Ohio Fuel Gas Co. shall be consummated, or one year following the effective date of this ordinance, whichever is later, the aforesaid rate shall be subject to adjustment in accordance with a fuel cost clause authorized by the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio in its order dated September 23, 1955 in Docket No. 24,226 and such fuel cost clause is hereby incorporated by reference."

An escalator clause contained in a previous company-drafted ordinance would have enabled the firm to immediately pass on to the consumer any rise in the wholesale cost of gas that may result from the merger.

The proposal last night by the gas company followed several offers and counter offers exchanged between the company and City Council during the past six months.

In May Council turned down a company proposal calling for a 26 per cent increase. Last September Council also rejected an alternate proposal of the company's. In October the company turned down a Council offer calling for a 20 per cent raise in rates. At the Nov. 6 meeting Council resubmitted the 20 per cent proposal which was again rejected.

Council on Nov. 20 gave first reading to a compromise ordinance submitted then by the company although councilmen threatened to vote against the proposal after the final reading unless the fuel cost clause was removed.

Last Thursday Council met with officials of the Natural Gas Company and the company written ordinance now before Council is a result.

A petition filed by property owners in the East State St. - Cleveland St. area requests the city to vacate a 16 foot alley 239.4 feet east of the east line of Brooklyn Ave. The petition was referred to the city engineer for verification of signatures.

Supt. Early was instructed to make the following corrections of a letter after it was received by William Ashton, board president, from the state fire marshal's office. Adlai Stevenson Won't Run Again For Presidency

Announcement Opens Way For Scramble For '60 Nomination

WASHINGTON (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson's announcement he will not seek a third chance at the presidency opened the way today to a scramble for the Democratic nomination in 1960.

Stevenson, defeated by President Eisenhower by about 10 million votes last month, said in a statement Tuesday: "I will not run again for the presidency." He said he will resume private law practice in Chicago in January.

The twice-defeated Democratic candidate said his interest in the party will "continue undiminished membership on an advisory group." He said he had accepted being set up by the Democratic National Committee to counsel on a party legislative program.

Stevenson's vice - presidential running mate, Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, was asked if he too might be in a mood to remove himself from consideration for the

Farmers Who Grew Corn In '56 To Vote

Polling places for the corn referendum in Columbiana County next Tuesday have been announced by the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, according to Floyd Lower, county agricultural agent at Lisbon.

Knox, West and Butler Townships will vote at Reichenbach Chevrolet Garage, North Georgetown.

Unity, Fairfield and Middleton Townships will vote at Fairfield Grange hall on Route 7, East Fairfield.

All other townships in the county will vote at the ASC office in the Farmer's National Bank building in Lisbon.

Polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Township committees, elected last summer, will act as referendum committeemen in the balloting at the various polling places, according to E. Z. Fishel, chairman of the Columbiana County ASC.

Farmers who grew corn in 1956 are eligible to vote. Voters will decide whether they wish corn acreage allotments or soil bank corn bases in effect for the next three years. If two-thirds vote for the corn bases, this plan will be used rather than the corn allotments used the last several years in the corn counties. If less than two-

Hammarskjold To Go To Budapest In 10 Days

U.N. Again Tries To Get Observers Into Hungary

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Despite word that Dag Hammarskjold plans to go to Budapest in 10 days, the U. N. Assembly early today adopted a U. S.-sponsored resolution calling again on Hungary to let in other U. N. observers to investigate conditions generally in the revolt-torn country.

The resolution, approved 51-10, asked Hungary and the Soviet Union to give the observers the green light by Dec. 7. The two Communist governments for the past month had steadfastly refused even to consider admission of a U. N. team for anything other than distribution of relief supplies.

To Arrive Dec. 16
The Assembly voted at a special session, lasting beyond midnight, at which the U. N. secretary general announced he hoped to arrive in Budapest Dec. 16 for a three-day visit. He proposed the trip three weeks ago to help set up distribution of U. N. relief.

Hammarskjold said he had arranged for U. N. Undersecretary Philippe de Seynes, a Frenchman, to leave Sunday for Budapest to complete arrangements for his own visit and to remain there with him.

Final acceptance of Hammarskjold's plans was awaited from Hungary's pro-Moscow government. Hungarian Foreign Secretary Imre Horvath, after conferring with the secretary general Tuesday night, said he had not yet received clearance from Budapest. Informal sources said, however, approval appeared certain.

The Budapest government and the Russians rejected the previous U. N. appeals to send in observers, contending this would be interference in internal Hungarian affairs.

The latest resolution asked Hammarskjold, pending receipt of a reply from Hungary and Russia, to arrange for the immediate dispatch of observers to Hungary "and other countries, as appropriate."

The latter provision was intended to permit the observers to get started on their job in Hungary's neighbors outside the Iron Curtain.

But with Yugoslavia already refusing to admit the U. N. visitors and Hungary likely to refuse again, it appeared the observers would have to gather what information they could from Hungarian refugees in Austria.

Vast Armada Converges On Suez Canal

Withdrawal May Be Quicker Than Had Been Anticipated

PORT SAID, Egypt (AP)—A vast armada of shipping converged on Port Said today, and a speedup in activity suggested British and French forces were preparing to disappear from Egypt even quicker than the "two or three weeks" predicted for their withdrawal.

As dawn broke over Egypt, a line of ships stretching from Port Said to the distant harbor already was moving out. The crowded harbor indicated that shipping already was on hand to take away most of the occupation troops.

Canadian Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, commander of the new U. N. emergency force, flew in from Cairo to discuss the withdrawal schedule. Gen. Sir Charles Keightley, over-all commander of the British-French force, also arrived from his Cyprus headquarters to confer with Burns.

The U. N. commander was to go onto Israel Thursday to discuss Israeli plans for pulling out of the Sinai Peninsula.

To Prevent Demonstrations
The best estimate in Port Said was that the "two to three weeks" withdrawal estimate had been announced mainly to avert any premature demonstrations by local Egyptians, and that Port Said would wake one morning soon to find the last of the British and French troops suddenly gone.

Port Said shops were doing business once more today, after shutting down Tuesday on orders from Egyptian "intimidation squads" who sought to spike British demands for reopenings. Where Tuesday the streets were all but deserted of Egyptians, sidewalk cafes had tables and chairs out again and the general feeling was one of excited anticipation.

With few backward glances, more than 2,000 British and French soldiers filed aboard ship for home, just a month after the first paratroopers leaped into Egypt.

Distasteful Exodus
The withdrawal ordered by London and Paris was dubbed Operation Harridan—a worn-out strummet or hag—signifying the military distaste for the exodus.

But the troops themselves were jubilant with hope they would be home before Christmas.

It was apparent the pace of the withdrawal was going to be extremely fast.

Some 3,200 French and British troops were withdrawn before British Foreign Secretary Selwyn

Santa and the SECRET ROOM

by LUCRECE HUDGINS BEALE

Synopsis: I am Alexander. I live with seven brothers and seven sisters. One night, shortly before Christmas, soldiers came to our house looking for Princess Anne who had been kidnapped from the palace. When I went to the barn to bed I heard someone inside. I knew it was the kidnapper.

CHAPTER TWO A STRANGE STORY

As soon as I knew there was someone in the barn I turned around and ran back to the house.

The snow was piled in drifts and still coming down and I was so scared I couldn't see at all. Suddenly I tripped. The lantern flew from my hands and the light went out. I staggered on and in the dark I was certain there was someone at my heels.

I shouted, "Help! Help!" and threw myself at the kitchen door. Thomas opened the door and I hurried in. "He's out there!" I screamed. "He's in the barn!"

All my brothers and sisters gathered around. "Who, Alexander? Who is in the barn?"

"The kidnapper of the Princess Anne! I heard him breathing there. I think he means to kidnap us all!"

Well, they were just as excited as I was. Thomas said, "Come on! What are we waiting for?" He took me by the hand and we all went back to the barn, the girls carrying lanterns and the boys carrying axes and broom sticks and heavy iron pots.

But when we got there the kidnapper was gone. We listened and hunted but we couldn't find anybody.

Amanda smoothed my hair. "Poor Alexander," she said. "It was all your imagination. You mustn't worry about Princess Anne. She will be found and the kidnapper punished, too. Now go to bed and think about it no more."

THEY LEFT ME there alone and I crawled up into the loft. But as soon as I'd put out the lantern and settled down in the hay I heard it again—plain as before. It was somebody breathing and it was close by my side.

This time I didn't run away. I reached down suddenly into the hay.

And it was somebody all right. I fastened my arms around him and cried, "Now I have you whoever you are!"

Then, to my astonishment, whoever it was started to wiggle and cry.

"Let me go! Oh, you're hurting me!"

I couldn't believe my ears for surely only a girl would carry on so.

I got up and lit the lantern and there, sure enough, was a girl half smothered in the hay. She was a golden haired child in a flimsy blue dress and I thought for a moment she was a fairy who had wandered away from some sunny fairy land.

"A-are you a fairy?" I whispered.

She sobbed and shook her head. Then suddenly I knew. If she wasn't a fairy she was a princess.

"You're Anne!" I cried. "You're Princess Anne! Who kidnapped you? Who brought you here?"

She stopped sobbing and looked at me. "No one kidnapped me. I ran away!"

"Ran away! But your father, the king! He is frantic and my sisters say he will die of a broken heart if you aren't returned."

"IT'S NOT TRUE!" cried the princess. "He's wicked. I'm afraid of him. He is going to do something awful to me."

"Why?" I asked. "people say he is the kindest of men and rules wisely and well."

"He used to," moaned the princess. "And I always loved him. But suddenly he is changed. He spends all his time in a secret room."

"Secret room!" I whispered. "What is in there?"

"I don't know. I don't know! Whoever has gone into that room with him has never come out again!"

Tomorrow! We Make a Wish

The Army announced Tuesday that as a result of "progress in electronic communications" it is disbanding its pigeon corps.

It said 1,000 message-carrying birds—the last of some 40,000 used in World War II and in Korea—will be put up for sale soon. The Army said its pigeon training center at Ft. Monmouth, N.J., will be closed and nine trainers reassigned.

Pick 2nd Choice In Corn Vote, Farmers Urged

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—Joseph W. Fichter of Oxford, chairman of the Ohio Farmers Union, says he thinks corn growers should vote for the second choice on the ballot at the federal corn referendum next Tuesday.

He said the second choice would give growers who stick to allotments price supports of 75-90 per cent. Fichter said that if the first choice prevails, the secretary of agriculture will be able to "set supports anywhere between zero and 90 per cent of parity."

Statehouse Change Is Not Likely To Alter Road Program

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio has a big backlog of road plans and construction should keep rolling despite a change in the state administration in January, State Highway Director S. O. Linzell said today.

Linzell said in a prepared statement:

"A review of plans already completed, plans that are well developed and right-of-way acquisition schedules indicates that 13 million dollars worth of work should actually be let in the first six months of 1957.

"In fact, barring a national emergency, I can see no reason why the construction program let in 1957 should be less than 240 million dollars."

Linzell pointed out that John A. Volpe, administrator of the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads, has congratulated Ohio for being one of the two states in the union ahead of the progress schedule for interstate highways. Maryland was the only other state listed as having outstripped the federal schedule.

Allen's term runs to July 1, 1957. He became a member in March, 1952.

Respiratory Ills Still Unchecked

CINCINNATI (AP)—Dr. Albert B. Sabin, noted University of Cincinnati virus researcher, said yesterday night he doubts if effective vaccines against respiratory ailments will be discovered in the near future.

He told the award dinner of the Cincinnati Public Health Federation that respiratory diseases account for two-thirds of human ills.

Dr. Sabin said, "Except under very special circumstances, vaccination against the known respiratory infections has not thus far proved to be an effective method of control."

The federation awarded its 1956 citation for "distinguished service to the cause of public health in greater Cincinnati" to Dr. John H. Skavlem, director of Dunham Hospital.

Dr. Skavlem, a tuberculosis researcher, is chief of the tuberculosis division of General Hospital in addition to his work at Dunham. He led establishment of a program here to teach young physicians about chest diseases.

ENROLLMENT IS LIMITED

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Wittenberg College's board of directors Tuesday limited the number of entering students to 600 to cope with an enrollment boom that is taxing the school's facilities. Dr.

W. Emerson Reck, vice president and general secretary, said total enrollment is threatening to overflow a 1,800-student limit set a year ago.

Columbiana Community Chest Drive Ends With $5,959

Midway Grange Schedules Yule Party for Dec. 15

COLUMBIANA — Dr. W. L. Lehman, community chest chairman, reported yesterday a total of $5,959.72 toward the $6,000 quota. He expects the final figure to be somewhere between $6,100 and $6,200. Collections show $2,325.22 from residences, $2,205 from industries, $1,365 from business and professional sources, and $74.50 from pledges. The chest organization at a meeting last night decided not to continue the drive.

Officials Probe Brooklyn Explosion

NEW YORK (AP)—Puzzled police and fire officials probed the blackened skeleton of a Brooklyn pier again today in hope of learning what sparked Monday's mysterious fire and blast.

Army bomb experts and the city fire commissioner expressed doubt Tuesday that known cargo on the pier powered the tremendous explosion.

The blast shattered windows for miles around. It blew a gaping crater 75 by 150 feet in the heavy concrete floor of the pier.

Fire Commissioner Edward F. Cavanagh Jr. said he was "certain" the known cargo on the pier could not have produced the blast. The cargo included highly combustible paint, lacquer, rubber cement, chemicals, fuels, petroleum naphtha, powered resin, alcohol and other materials. Cavanagh estimated damage at 15 million dollars.

Strikes Idle Fewer Workers In October

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Labor Department said today fewer workers were idled by work stoppages beginning in October than in any corresponding month since 1948.

The department's statistics bureau also said that preliminary estimates showed a marked improvement in the situation over October 1955, when 130,000 workers compared with 431 new stoppages in October 1955 directly affecting 214,000 workers.

Including stoppages that began earlier, there were 525 in effect in October, idling 190,000 workers for an estimated one million man days.

The jury was composed of Irene Galbreath and Irene Brobender of Salem; Frances North of East Liverpool; Helen Buck of RD 1, Wellsville; Mabel O'Donnell and Eula Goddard of Salineville; Louella Hull of Lisbon; Edna Dickey and Jacqueline Eells of Rogers; Helen Gwynne of Washingtonville; Rosalee Hite of Kensington RD 1 and Esperance Raley of Hanoverton.

Apple Growers Plan Marketing Meeting

LISBON — A number of Columbiana County apple growers will attend the meeting of Ohio apple growers which will be held in Columbus Wednesday, Dec. 12, to organize a fruit marketing association for the state of Ohio.

Under tentative plans the organization would operate similar to the Ohio Potato Growers Association, according to Floyd Lower, county agricultural agent.

Many growers have expressed interest at local meetings held where the subject was discussed, Lower said.

CONSTIPATED? new laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon. A "thrifty" colon is one that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

TO REGAIN NORMAL REGULARITY two things are necessary. First, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it and so, excite its muscles to action; to a normal urge to purge.

ONLY A BULK LAXATIVE can 1) re-moisten this dry, shrunken waste and 2) supply vital bulk to re-create a normal urge to purge. And, of all bulk laxatives, COLONALID, the amazing new lavative discovery is so effective that it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, yet is so smooth, so gentle it has been proved safe even for women in the most critical stages of pregnancy. SUPERIOR TO OLD STYLE bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONALID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; does not interfere with your absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; and in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other side reactions. IT'S A PHYSIOLOGICAL FACT: Exercise tones your body! And COLONALID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Whether occasional, frequent or chronic, whatever your degree of constipation, get COLONALID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! The price, only 98c for the economical 60 tablet package, brings you positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

thorized loans to the pair for passage home after Pate telephoned, appealing to his father for $900 to finance the plane trip. He said he wanted to be home for the holidays.

Two For One

The schoolteacher supply never will catch up to the educational demand.

Yet, in only a few places is the inevitable shortage being faced up to with a plan for doing something about it. Most of the places are in Michigan, where an experiment by Central Michigan College of Education and the Ford Fund For Advancement of Education has been revealing the possibilities of teacher aides.

The chief possibility is as exciting as the lift given to nursing by nurse aides during and after World War II — that special skill can be made doubly useful when augmented by the help of a nonprofessional aide performing chores and clerical duties.

When a teacher is free to concentrate on teaching, the pupil-teacher ratio can be increased as much as 100 per cent, which has the effect of doubling the service of teachers without waiting for that many more teachers to be trained. Moreover, the aides are willing to work for less money, because they have no investment in a career. In many cases, furthermore, they become so interested in teaching they decide to qualify themselves through teacher-training, thus swelling the ranks of the profession.

Educators agree that teachers simply cannot be trained fast enough to meet a demand for upward of 500 new teachers daily for the next year, according to National Education Association. But it is not 500 new teachers a day that are needed so much as hundreds of new educational employees to relieve teachers of the zipping, money-counting, baby-sitting and practical nursing that use up almost as much time as teaching, itself.

In The Duck Family

A disastrous pier explosion in Brooklyn following a tip to a New York newspaper that something was going to happen has highlighted union trouble in the New York port.

On the New York waterfront there are no illusions.

The waterfront is dominated by racketeers. The illusions are in Washington.

Washington cannot afford to get tough about the connection between what goes on in waterfront rackets and votes. So it prefers not to think of rackets by their right name. It thinks of them, instead, as unions.

It gives them the same bargaining rights under federal law as genuine unions. It gives them the protection of federal courts—all under the illusion that what is really a racket becomes a union if you do not call it a racket.

Even professional unionists cannot swallow that. They have tried to rid themselves of the racket stigma in the port of New York by calling everything by its right name, but without success.

They never will have success until politicians call everything by its right name, too. That will give policemen the right to use the right name. It will give judges the courage to do their duty. It may even give lawyers who defend racketeers a twinge of conscience.

When human beings tie society in knots by extorting wealth they have not earned, using terror as a weapon, they are racketeers. When a fowl waddles, quacks and acts like a duck, it is in the duck family. When a pier explosion occurs after a warning, it was not an accident. It was terrorism.

Drive And Live

This month's nationwide attack on traffic hazards—a project of National Safety Council—will give another push to one of the most successful campaigns ever staged.

A successful campaign traffic hazards? In 1927, the first year that information on traffic deaths per miles of travel was collected, 16.3 deaths occurred for each 100 million miles.

The trend of deaths relative to miles traveled has been uniformly downward for 28 years, although this has been overlooked in year-to-year consternation over the rising toll of traffic deaths. But even this statistic, which inevitably gets larger as population and the number of cars both keep growing, is threatening to produce a surprise. In October, it dropped 12 per cent at a time when a normal seasonal rise had been expected.

Your chances of death relative to mileage traveled have improved until they were down to 6.4 per 100 million vehicle miles in 1955. The all-time low was reached in 1954, when the fatality rate fell to 6.3 deaths per 100 million miles.

The December drive on traffic hazards is worth backing. It is one more detail in a drive making automobiles the safest place to be—almost as safe as commercial airplanes.

A woman's club head says that women can keep a secret better than men. But look how many it takes to do it.

Historical Precedent

Moral Forces In World Face Biggest Challenge

The moral forces of the world now face the biggest challenge that has ever confronted them.

It was moral force that persuaded the British and French to agree to withdraw their troops from the Suez area. Moral force argues that it is not necessary to exert military force to secure justice for the aggrieved. Will this view prove to be correct?

The United Nations now is the main custodian of the moral force of the world. The United States, as one of its principal champions, has the ball now. What will the United States do with it?

The British and French now say, in effect, to the world: "Well, we tried negotiation with Nasser but it got us nowhere. We went in to teach Nasser a lesson. Now we are pulling our troops out unconditionally."

"What does the United Nations propose to do from now on to get compliance with its resolutions?"

"We shall wait and see — and don't be surprised if some day we find ourselves compelled by events to send our troops back to the Middle East and you Americans find that you have to accompany us on such a mission. It's up to you now to take the lead."

WHAT A STRONG position such a course of self-denial now gives the British and French in the world situation of today! They have shown good judgment in yielding to the pressures of moral force. They have imposed no conditions on their withdrawal of troops from Egypt. They have put it up to the United Nations in general and the United States in particular to find some way of making Dictator Nasser behave. They have, by example, challenged the Soviet Union to withdraw its armed forces from other countries where they are not wanted. Unfortunately, history is on the side of the realistic British and French. They themselves dilly-dallied in vain with Hitler in the 1930's. Their spokesmen argued eloquently against rash steps that might lead to war.

They debated in the League of Nations a b o u t imposing "sanctions" against Dictator Mussolini upon his invasion of Ethiopia but no agreement was reached.

In the end, military force had to be used when Hitler violated the territorial integrity of Poland which Britain had guaranteed to defend.

Today Britain as a member of the United Nations is joined with America and France and other members in guaranteeing the right of "Hungary and other so-called 'satellites' of the Soviet Union to live in independence.

The Atlantic Charter of 1942 pledged the right of self-government to the nations of Eastern Europe. Mr. Dulles last Sunday reminded Moscow of his signature on that pledge.

THE ISSUE is in a sense the same today that it was in 1939. Will the United Nations falter as did the league?

It will be argued that the League failed primarily because America was not a member and hence there was no way of telling in advance whether the military force of the United States would be thrown into the balance on the side of the victims of aggression.

This gave Hitler an advantage he was quick to seize. It may even have unwittingly encouraged his acts of aggression.

President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles have just told the world that the chances of peace in the Middle East are good. They may be good if the world can be assured soon that the United States has a resolute policy of moral force and is not going to flounder.

The temptation is to steer in the middle, trying to decide whether to risk antagonizing Nasser or to placate him and the Arabs and whether to be firm or stand by weakly while the Soviet Union refuses to let even the observers of the United Nations get into Hungary for an inspection visit.

ONE THING the United States cannot afford to do — to cringe before the perpetrators of injustice just because they are big and powerful.

Moral force requires courage. It means that a government or an alliance or an organization like the United Nations must be prepared to carry through with its resolutions even if it involves military force as a last resort.

The United Nations at the moment is a cumbersome institution. It has taken lying down rebuff after rebuff from the Soviet Union, especially in the Korean war.

The end result now could be the utter failure of the U.N. to make its moral force effective.

Then there would have to be reliance on the famous Article 51 of the U.N. Charter which authorizes defensive alliances like the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

It is significant that the NATO council is meeting in Paris this week and Secretary Dulles is planning to attend the sessions.

THE EMPHASIS is supposed to be on the non-military and political aspects of the alliance — how to strengthen it. Actually, what NATO can be is an alternative to the U.N.

It can be the instrument of military force that influences a peaceful settlement in Europe or else it can be the alliance that fights World War III.

Nobody can say yet whether moral force will succeed but if the U.N. allows itself to be pushed around and shows no teeth now, then the outbreak of World War III through some explosive incident may be confidently predicted as inevitable in the next few years.

Suez Won't Wreck NATO

By COL. CURT ARANDE

Col. Arande is a retired officer of the German army who lives in the United States and is a professor of history and of Asiatic and military studies. He recently interviewed the new NATO commander in Paris.

NEW YORK
Despite severe political differences arising from the Suez crisis, the Western Military Alliance in NATO is as closely knit as any peacetime alliance since ancient Greece.

The positive spirit that permeates all NATO command levels in headquarters at Marly and Fontainebleau quickly reassures the doubtful visitor who brings up the problems of NATO's future in the light of differing U.S. and British-French positions today.

Even more assuring are the views expounded by Gen. Lauris Norstad, the United States Air Force officer who has just replaced Gen. Alfred Gruenther as supreme commander of the North Atlantic forces.

Gen. Norstad is an air force man who thinks in total military terms of both air and ground. He places strong emphasis on development of new weapons and on their tactical and strategic use. Improved firepower of these weapons, the general explained in an interview, has reduced by two-thirds the initial estimates of the number of divisions necessary for NATO defense.

But ever improving weapons complicate the logistical job of NATO planners who, as one of them put it, are somewhat in the same position as an engineer who is building a bridge over an ever-widening river.

The changeover from Gen. Gruenther's command to the new leadership of Gen. Norstad has been perfectly prepared over the past three years and has been accepted with satisfaction by staff officers representing other NATO countries. In terms of military philosophy also there is little or no change in the outlook of NATO's leadership.

Basically, Gen. Norstad's military credo, as he outlined it recently is:

1. By creation of a protective defense line, force the aggressor to concentrate his forces near that line before any contemplated attack. This provides the defending forces with ample warning.

2. The concept of deterrence—discouraging aggression through out atomic-armed strategic air command — must be strengthened by use of atomic weapons within the European allied command.

3. The nerve centers of allied command must be protected by establishment of a system of rear-area headquarters and supply lines, safe from attack.

Within this last concept falls the question of the Suez Canal, a rear-area supply line of great importance. A political bone of contention, from the military point of view of NATO is united in the military belief that the Suez Canal can and will be protected from enemy aggression.

At Fontainebleau and Marly in France one sees heartening teamwork of all NATO allies. A British captain takes orders from a German lieutenant colonel. A German major takes his direction from a French commander.

This cooperation, first instilled into NATO by President Eisenhower who masterfully overcame the initial antagonisms in the NATO family, was bolstered by the strategic brilliance of NATO's second commander, Gen. Gruenther. Gen. Norstad is an able successor to both of these commanders.

Frightening Similarity

2 Forked Drive On Tight Money

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—A two forked drive on tight money—one on part of its cause, the other on part of its effects—is under way today.

One governmental agency aids the move to get people to save more money so it can be lent to those who need to spend.

At almost the same time another governmental agency is making it easier for one set of borrowers, home builders, to find money in a competitive market.

The first could increase the supply of credit, at least for one set of lenders, the commercial banks—the second doesn't.

On the other side of the financial street a group of economists forecasts credit will get still tighter before it gets easier. And consumers themselves, while pushing their installment debt total to a new high, have cut the total amount they owe on their cars.

The net result may be mostly a shifting in the various factors in the tight money situation without any great change in the over-all picture. The nation probably will have to get used to living with tight money for some time to come.

The Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. will permit some 13,200 insured commercial banks with about 50 billion dollars in time and savings deposits to raise the interest they pay to savers from the present 2 1/2 per cent limit to 3 per cent, if they wish.

Commercial bankers here welcome this chance to lure savers who have been looking to other places to put their money where the returns are more liberal.

They point out that the first to benefit may be the foreign depositors who have better than one billion dollars on deposit in the New York banks alone.

But the commercial banks will watch to see if their new competitive position will need the mutual savings banks to seek higher rates than the 3 per cent most of them now pay.

At the midway meeting here this week of the National Assn. of mutual savings banks, its president, Crawford H. Stocker Jr., of Lynn, Mass., urged an all out effort to promote more savings.

To help people find money to borrow, the Federal Housing Administration this week is raising the limit on interest on FHA guaranteed mortgages to 5 per cent. It says this will help home builders to find money. But this may make it still harder to find money for a Veterans Administration guaranteed loan, which is fixed by law at 4 per cent.

Builders and mortgage lenders here say the FHA step may be only small help to them. Many insist that the mortgage rates should be made flexible instead.

Debts Worry Uncle Sam

By JOHN F. SEMBOWER

ANN ARBOR, Mich.
The economist President Eisenhower has appointed to this three-man Council of Economic Advisers believes that the size of private debts in the nation is becoming a problem.

Prof. Paul W. McCracken of the University of Michigan warns that "In the decade ahead we must have either unbalanced federal budgets or unbalanced private budgets, with private debts rising substantially more rapidly than incomes and sales in the latter case. But between now and 1965 we cannot have both."

"In the immediate postwar period private debts were so low that a rise relative to incomes constituted no worrisome problem," he says.

He also maintains that "during much of our history private debt has been virtually equal to total debt, so the question never really arose. However, we are starting into the next decade with many persons already uncomfortable about the large volume of private debt."

Striking an optimistic note on the other hand, Dr. McCracken believes that an increase in America's total output of 565 billion dollars by 1965—an increase of 40 to 50 per cent over the present—is "quite feasible."

Referring to what the economists now call "the gross national product," he states that this increase "would actually require an improvement in productivity only moderately better than in the pre-war decade."

He cites higher capital outlays, more research, technological development, and greater attention to "behavioral and motivational problems in the economy" as factors which should permit a growth rate substantially better than the pre-war decade, which included the great depression.

The size of the public and private debt, however, puts the nation in somewhat of a dilemma, according to the President's new advisor.

"Because the federal debt still is relatively quite large, private debts for several years must grow about 50 per cent more rapidly than incomes and sales if private debt is to account for the expansion of total debt," he maintains.

Dr. McCracken suggests one way out of the squeeze: "If a substantially larger proportion of our savings were to go into equities, such as capital improvements of one kind or another, the proportion going into assets which are the debts of others could be correspondingly reduced."

He feels that "measures which might facilitate such a shift would be all to the good," and he views the greater tendency of pension funds to go into equities and the substantial growth of investment companies as evidences that we are moving in this direction.

Most of our savings in the 10 years ahead will go into insurance companies, banks, savings and loan associations, and the other major thrift institutions, he predicts.

Dr. McCracken believes that the increase in national output which he envisages will generate financial problems of its own, because "if we are to get the required increase in bank deposits and the money supply without increasing the federal debt, bank loans almost certainly will continue to grow compared with deposits."

Voice For Americans

In a world of situations that don't make sense, can you tie this one: With our government spending billions through The Voice of America to get the facts of international life across to people OUTSIDE America, our own radio and TV systems (with one exception) are not bothering to get them across INSIDE our own country?

One lone radio station, New York City's municipal outfit, thinks words and actions that may mean the survival of America and life or death for you, and you rate all-out coverage!!!

Bricker Says Lausche Would Have To Join Party If He Votes To Organize GOP Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) says Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche would have to join the Republican party if he voted with the GOP in organization of the Senate.

Bricker was asked at a news conference Tuesday about Lausche's statement that he might—under certain conditions—consider voting with the Republicans to organize the new Senate. Bricker replied that Lausche would have "to come all the way across" and join the Republicans if he voted with them on organization.

Lausche said previously he would not come to Washington until after his gubernatorial term expires Jan. 14. Congress convenes earlier that month, and there is the possibility the Senate would already be organized when Lausche arrives.

Asked if he thinks he and Lausche will have similar voting records, Bricker responded that he has no idea.

Later in the interview, however, he said he thinks he and Lausche "pretty well represent" the thinking of the people of Ohio because they have been elected so often.

Bricker also said he will seek support soon at the White House for a new version of his proposal to limit the President's treaty making powers.

The Eisenhower administration fought his original draft back in 1954. Asked if he thought the new version would satisfy the White House, Bricker said he didn't know.

Churchill's Son Sees Eden Quitting Slowly

LONDON (AP) — Columnist Randolph Churchill wrote today that Prime Minister Anthony Eden, now resting in Jamaica from overstrain, is making a "phased withdrawal" from office.

"It is most unlikely that Sir Anthony will ever resume his full political functions as head of the government," the son of former Prime Minister Winston Churchill wrote in the Evening Standard.

Churchill said members of Eden's Cabinet overruled the Prime Minister on Nov. 5 when it ordered a cease fire in Egypt and again on Nov. 19 when it decided on the question of withdrawing from Port Said which was announced Monday.

"After the second incident," said Churchill, "He was in a nervous and agitated state. He expressed a desire to resign forthwith."

The Columnist added that other Cabinet ministers persuaded Eden that an abrupt resignation could split the party, and that a gradual stepdown was decided upon.

Miss Joan Adele Fisher became the bride of Oliver Dale Metts Jr. Sunday afternoon in a double ring ceremony performed in the Church of God.

Mrs. Oliver Dale Metts, Jr.

Palms, grape ivy, seven branch candelabras and a bouquet of chrysanthemums decorated the altar before which G. A. Tabor, church pastor, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Fisher of 178 Fair Ave. and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Metts of 871 Granite St.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a floor-length gown of white nylon chiffon. The shirred bodice was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and cap sleeves. Long tulle gloves completed her ensemble.

Her dress was of white nylon chiffon and yellow mums as was her colonial bouquet.

Misses Pearl Price of Salem and Kathleen Metts, sister of the bridegroom, were gowned in dark pink lace gowns made identical to that worn by the maid of honor. They carried colonial bouquets of deep pink carnations and white mums which were also used in their headresses. The attendants all wore long tulle gloves and pearl necklaces, gifts of the bride.

The flower girl, Louann Mountz of Hanoverton, cousin of the bride, wore an ankle length dress of deep pink nylon organdy. White baby mums formed her headdress. She carried a basket of white baby mums and rose petals.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Fisher chose a gray print dress with black accessories. Mrs. Metts wore a royal blue dress with navy accessories. Both wore red rose corsages.

Reception Follows

A reception for 100 guests was held in the church dining room. Pink and white streamers decorated the room. The table was laid with a white linen cloth and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride couple. Tapers were on either side of the cake and the attendants' bouquets added to the decorations.

Assembly Grabbed Much Of Lausche's Powers

O'Neill To Find Executive Power Somewhat Eroded By Legislature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's first Republican governor in eight years will assume executive powers somewhat eroded, by legislative action.

Republican Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill indicated during his successful campaign for governor that the "erosion of executive powers" should be halted.

O'Neill takes over next Jan. 14 from Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche, who spent a record 10 years in office. Lausche, who usually had to contend with Republican-controlled legislatures, will become a U.S. senator by then.

Associates of O'Neill wonder how the 40-year-old former House speaker can develop a "conservation" program to halt or reverse the trend.

Republicans who dominated the last Legislature will be even more firmly in control of the 102nd General Assembly, which convenes Jan. 7. Leaders have expressed a willingness to cooperate with O'Neill on a wait-and-see basis.

Last week's special session unanimously refused to enact the out-going governor's utility seizure proposal offered in an effort to restore blacked-out telephone service in the Portsmouth area without calling out the Ohio National Guard.

But Republican representatives and senators promised emergency action in the next session to raise the pay of cabinet members and other top patronage appointees to help O'Neill "draft" competent officials. Later cooperation probably will depend on how well O'Neill performs.

Republican legislatures began taking over executive powers during the later years of Lausche's administration. The governor complained that Republicans blocked much of his program. Legislators complained that the program was inadequate and that Lausche took credit for General Assembly accomplishments.

In 1953, the Legislature created the highway construction council to classify Ohio's roads and get a building program rolling with money from a half-billion dollar bond issue. Reports indicate the council may be dropped if construction accelerates.

A capital improvements board, created to screen plans for state buildings for the Legislature, also may be on the way out.

Legislative dissatisfaction with Lausche's administration resulted in creation of a capital improvements planning division under the finance director to keep building plans six years ahead of construction.

The Legislature also set up a "watchdog committee" to check on the progress of planning and construction of buildings.

In the highway department, the Legislature created four assistant director posts in an effort to force the director to delegate some of his extensive authority.

The bureau of motor vehicles and the state highway patrol were split from the highway department and placed in a new department of highway safety.

State hospitals and prisons were taken from the welfare department and placed under a new department of mental health and corrections. That left the welfare department to deal principally with social services.

An Ohio school survey commission drew the assignment of looking into finances. Its report led to legislative revision of the school financing program.

Lawmakers also placed before voters the issue of an elected state board of education with power to hire a state superintendent of instruction formerly appointed by the governor. Voters approved the proposal.

Most of the major changes took place despite vetoes or disapproval by Lausche.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Women and minors in Ohio food and lodging industries today came under the protection of a minimum wage order issued by Ohio Industrial Relations Director Margaret A. Mahoney.

The minimum rates were determined by a wage board appointed by Director Mahoney, and were recommended after a public hearing.

300,000 U.S. Women To Get Old-Age Pay

WASHINGTON (AP)—About 300,000 women under 65 years of age will begin receiving federal old-age and survivors insurance checks this week, the Social Security Administration said today.

Commissioner Charles I. Schottland said that more than one-third of the women who could get benefits for November under amendments passed by Congress this year will get checks.

The amendments permit payments at age 62, at reduced rates, to eligible wives and retired workers and at full rates to widows and mothers of deceased insured workers.

About 115,000 widows and mothers of deceased insured workers will get the November checks—in the same amount they would have received at age 65 under the old law.

Some 105,000 wives and 80,000 retired women workers also are due to get checks this week. These are reduced by certain percentages below the amount that would be paid if the women went on the rolls at age 65.

For instance a woman worker retiring at 62 gets a 20 per cent reduction; an eligible wife, who starts getting benefits at 62, receives a check reduced by 25 per cent. The closer to 65 the woman is when she takes benefits, the higher the payment. Once payment begins at a reduced amount, however, they remain at that figure.

thirds favor the corn base plan, corn allotments will continue in effect. Columbiana and Mahoning Counties were recently added to the commercial corn area.

The corn base plan is a provision of the Soil Bank Act passed by Congress this year. Under this plan it is expected by officials of the United States Department of Agriculture that voluntary participation in the soil bank will keep corn acreages to a desirable level, Lower said. Consequently, the corn base for any farm is higher than the corn acreage allotment for that farm.

There are no compulsory features in either the corn allotment program or the corn base plan except that a grower cannot receive price support or soil bank agreements if he exceeds his allotment or his base, whichever is in effect, Lower said.

Each farmer should decide for himself which plan will be the most favorable to him. He may vote even though he later may decide not to participate in the corn program or in the soil bank program. Farmers may participate in the soil bank whether acreage allotments or corn bases are in effect.

Under acreage allotments all corn producers in the commercial corn area who plant within their allotments are eligible for price support and soil bank agreements. Under the base acreage program, all who put 15 per cent of their corn bases in the corn acreage reserve or the conservation reserve of the soil bank and do not exceed such farm base acreage for corn are eligible for price support.

This is the first year Columbiana County has been included in the commercial corn area, Fishel stated. Growers have never before had an opportunity to choose between two voluntary programs designed to maintain and improve farm income by a direct attack on farm surpluses. Growers on record in the county office will have mailed statements listing the acreage allotment and the corn base for their respective farms before the referendum.

Women Again Demonstrate In Budapest

BUDAPEST (AP)—Hundreds of Hungarian women demonstrated for the second consecutive day in Budapest's streets today in mourning for insurgents killed in anti-Communist rebellion.

The Russians moved more tanks and armored cars into the city as a precaution, but ordered Hungarian soldiers and police to handle the job of dispersing the women.

Most of the demonstration was orderly. It involved about 2,500 women, made up of groups of about 200 each. Tuesday about 15,000 demonstrated and one woman was wounded by gunfire after an altercation with a Soviet officer.

The women again marched with bouquets, flags and black wreaths of mourning.

The center of today's demonstration was Petoefi Square, on a bank of the Danube in the center of town, where there is a monument to the Hungarian poet of the 1848 revolution, Sandor Petoefi.

As the women approached the square they were blocked from approaching the monument by seven Russian tanks and about the same number of armored cars.

A big slump in automobile sales was predicted, with widespread unemployment in motor centers.

Chancellor of the Exchequer Harold Macmillan hinted in the House of Commons yesterday he would have to increase the income tax in his budget next April. The talk around London was that he was thinking in terms of a 3 per cent increase. That would jack the basic British income tax rate up to 47½ per cent on all taxable income between $1,400 and $5,600. Above that surtaxes take an ever-increasing bigger bite.

Withdrawal

Lloyd announced Monday that the two nations had written off their Suez invasion. The total strength of the expeditionary force has never been divulged.

No timetable was given for the withdrawal. But the British commander, Lt. Gen. Sir Hugh Stockwell, told his men he hoped he could get them all out of Egypt "in the next few weeks."

The U. N. police force in Egypt grew to nearly 2,600 men as the British and French packed up. The arrival of a company of Colombians swelled the U. N. forces in Port Said to 600. A Swedish company was due today.

Take Third of City The U. N. troops have taken over policing of a third of Port Said. Another U. N. detachment is spread across the no man's land dividing British-French and Egyptian lines 24 miles south of the city.

Israel has announced its withdrawal from a 30-mile-wide strip of the Sinai Peninsula at the edge of the canal and said that it has pulled 10,000 to 12,000 of its troops all the way out of Egyptian territory. The Israeli Foreign Office gave no clue as to when the entire peninsula would be evacuated but said, "It should be a staged withdrawal."

125 Potters Quit Jobs At Newell

About 125 warehousemen walked off their jobs at 10 this morning in all plants of the Homer Laughlin China Co. at Newell, W. Va. in what both the workers and the company agreed was a dispute over hiring of apprentices.

A company spokesman said the employees "walked off in all plants because we started a couple of apprentices in exact compliance with the agreement" between management and union.

The company said there was no immediate effect on its other operation. It was reported the walk-out had no effect on others of the same trade in other potteries.

A dispute over hiring of apprentice kilnmen in September led to a general stoppage at three major plants that idled about 5,000 at its peak. The September walkout ended after about a week. E. L. Wheatley, president of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters, was in a meeting and unavailable for comment. The IBOP has a working agreement with the U.S. Potters Association, which represents manufacturers.

Stockholm Crash Is Told To Rotary

His recollections of activity on the liner Stockholm after its crash with the Andrea Doria were told by Maurice Michaud of Columbiana when he spoke before 124 persons last night at the Rotary Club's ladies night dinner in the Memorial Building.

Mr. and Mrs. Michaud were passengers on deck B of the liner and were in their stateroom when the crash occurred, bringing in water which covered the floor. After the crash, Michaud said, the Stockholm captain gave reassurances in the English language.

The first three boats from the Andrea Doria were filled with male passengers and crew members, he added. When the collision took place an aft anchor was jammed loose and was caught, and the crew had to cut the chain with a torch before the ship could move on.

Michaud showed slides taken after the crash.

As the Stockholm progressed on its two-day journey back to New York, Michaud said, 572 survivors were aboard, which was nearly the same number of original passengers who began the voyage.

Robert McCulloch Sr. was program chairman.

Adios Harry Tops Harness Race Winners

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Earnings of $129,912 in 1956 put Adios Harry, mercury-footed pacing stallion, on top of harness racing's leading money winners, the U. S. Trotting Assn. announced today.

The association said the total is the highest ever credited to a pacer for a single season. It has been exceeded only by Scott Frost's $186,101 bankroll of 1955. Scott Frost is a trotter.

Adios Harry was driven in most of his starts by Luthie Lyons, son of the owner, J. Howard Lyons of Greenwood, Del. The horse's biggest win was the $75,000 Eastern Pacing Championship at Yonkers Raceway. Adios Harry registered 13 wins, 5 seconds and 1 third in 30 seasonal starts.

The second place among the big money winners is Dottie's Pick, owned by C. E. and J. E. Armstrong of Brampton, Ont., who banked $101,142. That was a record sum for a filly or mare and marked the first time a member of her sex had cracked the $100,000 mark. Dottie's Pick won the $75,000 American Pacing Classic in California and then conquered Adios Harry in their $25,000 match race at Yonkers.

Third and fourth places on the money roster went to horses owned by Saul Camp of Shafter, Calif. His pacer, Diamond Hal, collected $86,179, and his trotter, Scott Frost, banked $85,851. Three-year-old pacer Noble Adios was fifth with $85,112 for owner Paul Wixom of Chicago.

The other five top winners, in order, were Galophone, aged trotter, $81,528; Bachelor Hanover, 3-year-old pacer, $80,375; Duane Hanover, aged pacer, $78,663; Nimble Colby, 3-year-old trotter, $75,953, and Belle Action, 3-year-old pacer, $75,495.

Trainer-driver Billy Houghton handled three among the top 10, Bachelor Hanover, Duane Hanover and Belle Action. Joe O'Brien was the only other driver handling more than one of the top 10—Diamond Hal and Scott Frost.

KU Students Hang Mather In Effigy

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—University of Kansas Football Coach Chuck Mather, former Massillon, Ohio, high school mentor, was hanged in effigy on the campus Tuesday.

Last Saturday's 15-13 loss to Missouri in the season finale irked many Kansas partisans who felt their team should have had a tie. Mather took full responsibility for calling the plays which he said were the key to the loss by a safety.

Told of being hanged in effigy, Mather commented: "I'm glad they weren't more realistic and hanged me personally."

Nats, Boston Near Five-Player Deal

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Minor league baseball clubs were set to start their annual player draft today while Washington and Boston appeared on the verge of completing a five-player deal.

Manager Chuck Dressen of the Senators acknowledged that a player deal was brewing between his club and the Red Sox. Players involved reportedly are outfielder Roy Sievers and third baseman Eddie Yost of the Senators and third baseman Ted Lepcio, second baseman Billy Consolo and outfielder Gene Stephens of Boston.

And Manager Bill Rigney of the New York Giants continued to dicker in the trade market in an effort to bolster his club, which finished sixth in the National League last season.

All minors from Class A up scheduled their draft session for this third day of the minor league baseball convention. Class B and C leagues do their drafting Thursday.

Minor league officials held a closed door session Tuesday and discussed the 29 proposed amendments to the major-minor agreement. Spokesmen said nothing startling developed. A vote on the various amendments comes Thursday.

On another front, Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick held a peace-pipe pow-wow with Gabe Paul, general manager of Cincinnati, and Harold Cooper, general manager of Columbus of the International League.

Paul and Cooper engaged in a one-punch fight Tuesday in a dispute over territorial rights. Cooper got in a grazing blow to Paul's shoulder before peacemakers stepped between them. Both agreed to drop the matter at the Frick meeting after Paul promised Cincinnati would no longer telecast Redleg games into Columbus territory when the Jets were playing at home.

North Carolina has beaten two football rivals by 65-0. On the losing end were the Medical College of Virginia in 1914 and Wake Forest in 1928.

Berlin Center Beats Newell In Overtime

Berlin Center defeated Newell, W. Va., Tuesday night 66-64 in a thriller won in overtime on the Newell floor.

Berlin Center trailed 61-56 with a minute and 13 seconds left in the game, but rallied to lead 62-61 with 10 seconds left.

Lee Barnes hit on one field goal and Jim Coleman got two to make the score 62-61. Newell's Don Kiger was fouled with one second remaining in the game. Kiger made his free throw but missed the second shot, to tie the score 62-62 at the end of regulation play.

In the overtime Barnes and Coleman, who were red hot all night, dumped in one basket apiece to wrap up the game for Berlin Center.

Star forward Richard Confoey sat on the bench because of ineligibility while his team was gaining its second victory of the season against three setbacks.

High point scorers for the winners were Lee Barnes and Jim Coman, with 27 and 25, respectively. Don Kiger and Dave Conway had 18 and 16, respectively, for the losers.

Big 10, NCAA Head For New TV Battle

CHICAGO (AP)—The Big Ten today appeared to be heading towards another squabble with the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. on the televising of college football games.

Big Ten athletic publicity directors Tuesday opened the annual conference meetings by recommending the athletic directors reopen the television matter at the NCAA convention in St. Louis next month.

The publicists urged limiting NCAA control of football television. They charged the present NCAA plan is not in accord with original provisions of the regulations passed by the NCAA in its 1951 convention at Dallas.

The policy adopted at Dallas was to have been a television experiment and not rigid control. However, the publicists said the NCAA has created "an undesirable monopolistic control of football television x x x and by so doing x x x is endangering college football by failure to capitalize on the public relations values of college games."

Big Ten football coaches were to hold morning and afternoon sessions today with the television committee meeting tonight.

Before Mickey Mantle hit his 52 American League homers in 1956, the last in the circuit to lead with more than 50 was Hank Greenberg. He hit 58 for the Detroit Tigers in 1938.

Hornung Awarded Heisman Trophy

Hornung, the one bright spot in Notre Dame's most disastrous football season, Tuesday was awarded the Heisman Trophy as the nation's outstanding college football player of 1956.

Hornung's first reaction to receiving the trophy, established in 1935 in honor of famed coach John W. Heisman and awarded by the Downtown Athletic Club of New York, was to give credit to his teammates and coaches.

"I am grateful to Terry Brennan and his coaching staff and to the team as a whole — they deserve credit for making it possible for me to have a chance for such an award," said Hornung.

The senior from Louisville, Ky., started the season at quarterback but later was forced to play halfback and fullback because of thumb injuries which hampered him in taking snap-backs from centers.

Hornung became the 22nd winner of the trophy. Jay Berwanger of the University of Chicago was first and Ohio State's Howard Cassady won the award last year. Tennessee halfback Johnny Morris was second in balloting. Hornung received a total of 1,006 points in the poll conducted by 1,318 electors across the nation and Majors had 994 points, marking the closest finish in years.

Al Moore, former New York Giants halfback Tommy McDonald and center Jerry Tubbs, both of Okla.-weekend pastime.

homa's national champions, finished third and fourth respectively. Other players listed in the voting were Jimmy Brown, Syracuse; Ron Kramer, Michigan; John Brodie, Stanford; Jim Parker, Ohio State; Kenny Ploen, Iowa; Jon Arnett, Southern California; Joe Walton, Pittsburgh, and Jim Swink, Texas Christian.

Hornung is the fifth Notre Dame player to be selected. Angelo Bertelli won in 1943, Johnny Lujack in 1947, Leon Hart in 1949 and Johnny Lattner in 1953 were the others.

Hornung led the Irish in rushing, passing, scoring and averaged 50 minutes a game. He was also Notre Dame's punter and one of its top defensive players.

Hornung took issue with critics who accused the Irish of showing lack of spirit in losing eight games and winning two. "We had the spirit to win all the way this season," said Hornung. "But after losing the opener to Southern Methodist, maybe we lost a little confidence in each other."

"I think Brennan did as good a job or better, this year as with his winning team of last season," he continued. "The responsibility of losing should be thrown on the players, not the coach."

N. Waterford Edged 50-49 By Bessemer

New Waterford's High School basketball team lost to Bessemer, Pa., 50-49 at Bessemer last night in a thriller, with Verzelli netting the winning basket just as the final buzzer sounded.

New Waterford now has a record of two wins and one loss.

The score was tied throughout the game five times. Bessemer periods by scores of 12-11 and 26-21 at the end of the first and second periods. New Waterford was ahead at the end of the third period 35-34, only to lose the game in the final stanza.

Dwaine Brown was high scorer for the losers with 27 points, and Verzelli, Sainato, and Gasperoni were high scorers for the winners with 14, 10 and 10 points respectively.

The New Waterford reserves were also nipped in a close game by the Bessemer reserves 30-29. New Waterford will play Leetonia Friday in a home game.

U.S. Offers Haven To Hungarian Olympic Athletes

Games To End In 48 Hours

Many Athletes May Not Return Home

By MILTON MARMOR
MELBOURNE (AP)—Hungarian Olympic athletes pondering the dream of political freedom away from their revolution torn homeland received a helpful offer tonight from America.

"The United States would look with favor," said American Consul General Gerald Warner in Melbourne, "on any pleas for political asylum from any Olympic Games athletes—Hungarian or otherwise."

This statement came dramatically as many of the great names in Hungary's sports history faced a fateful 48 hours of their lives.

For them this was a heart-tearing time of decision—to return to their Russian devastated homeland or stay in Australia, far from their families but in freedom.

Responsible sources have disclosed that the Australian government will permit any athletes who seek asylum to remain in Australia until the end of January.

These rapidly breaking developments in the Hungarian situation took place as quiet efforts were pushed to protect those Hungarians wanting to defect. There have been reports that from 15 to almost the entire Hungarian team here was waging a battle in their minds on what steps they should take.

Some already have decided to stay. Others notified Hungarian anticommunist elements in Australia they would stay but now are wavering. Others are just keeping silent until Friday, when the first of two chartered planes take off from Melbourne's Essendon Airport with members of the Hungarian Olympic team.

One noted Hungarian athlete, former world record breaker Janos Somogyi, a walker, has openly stated he would seek refuge in Australia. He said he believed about 30 other Hungarian athletes would follow him.

Among those thirty—or more—are Olympic gold medalists and world record breakers in various sports.

They asked that nothing be said of their plans until Saturday when the XVI Olympiad ends.

Bowling Tournament Enters Semi-Finals

CHICAGO (AP)—Ninety-two of the nation's top men and women bowlers, survivors of preliminary rounds, start shooting today in the tough semi-finals of the All-Star Bowling Tournament.

The 46 men qualifiers among the 153 shooters in the 24-game first rounds, will roll 12 games today. A similar number of women qualifiers in 16 games fired by 64 shooters will roll eight games.

The 14 leaders in the semi-finals enter the finals, to start Thursday and run through Sunday. Joining the 14 in each division will be the men's and women's tourney champions of the last two years.

In the men's group they are en finalists will be joined by Detroit, 1954-55 winner. The 14 women of Chicago and Steve Nagy of De-defending champion Bill Lillard of Detroit and Sylvia Wene of shooter who finished fourth in last.

Both holders of first place in fending champion Anita Cataline Philadelphia, titleholder in 1954-55, the preliminary rounds held fairly wide leads as the firing opened in the semi-finals.

Dick Weber, 26-year-old St. Louis year's tourney, was 86 pins ahead of Bob Kwolek of Detroit.

Jere Price, attractive 24-year-old housewife of Fort Worth, Tex., had a 76-pin margin over Arlene Eck, of St. Paul, Minn.

Three former men champions—Andy Varipana, Hempstead, N.Y.; Ned Day, West Allis, Wis.; and Connie Schwegler, Madison, Wis., failed to make the finals.

Among those women qualifying for the semi-finals was Hilda Greenwalt, Alliance, Ohio, with a 51-game total of 2,928.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By R. L. LIDE

Hunting pressure has eased up considerably.

Even though we have had some good tracking snows many hunters have given up. There is a reason for it. Rabbit tracks are plentiful in spots but they all lead to the nearest groundhog hole. What good is a rabbit in a groundhog hole? True, we need a sufficient brood stock left over but when the biggest majority of rabbits hole up that means you can tramp all day without firing your gun.

Comparing notes with the Jefferson County game protector, Ray Starr, he mentioned that any hunter bag check indicates we have better rabbit hunting than in Jefferson County.

I have noticed a scarcity of rabbits in the hill sections of Columbiana county adjacent to Jefferson. The northern half of Columbiana county seems to be better hunting territory. Rabbit season ends Jan. 1.

PHEASANT SEASON (except Reeves) ends Dec. 8th. A few pheasants are being taken but the majority of the old cocks take to their heels and safety.

For some reason I am not receiving any bands. Approximately 300 cock birds were released in this county and all were wearing leg bands when released.

It is important that the hunters turn these bands over to the nearest game protector. Otherwise, how are we going to know the pen raised birds survived or what happened to them? Could it be that releasing pen raised birds is only a source of meat for the vermin? It is important that hunters report the band number, where and when taken.

If any of the bow and arrow boys bag a deer I would like to know about it. I would like to take their picture before it is skinned out. The picture will be important because I would like to write an article on "bow hunting" for the Salem News publication and the Conservation Bulletin.

THERE IS A STORY making the rounds that some hunters remove the shot from the shell and insert an arrow which is fired from the gun. I have my doubts about this. Sounds to me like a good way to get your head blown off. Also, some of the bow hunters shoot a deer and then insert the arrow in the bullet hole to make it appear it was taken with bow and arrow.

If this is true then it sums up to "shaking the jail house door." When a privilege is abused, laws can correct the situation.

Harold Green, the Delaware county game protector, has been appointed state supervisor of firearms and water safety. I am sure this will interest the local sportsmen who have been teaching hunter safety for the past two years. Once we are brought up-to-date, water safety can be added to the program now in effect.

I, for one, am anxious to see how our program can be improved on once this ex-marine has had the opportunity to get his feet on the ground and present a uniform program that will prevent the needless loss of life when hunting, swimming or boating.

HERE'S AN ODDITY: John Godard of MC 1, Salem shot a rabbit and when it was dressed out he found the doe was carrying two young in the embryo. I have seen two bunnies taken by hunters that were less than 3 months old. But I have never heard of wild rabbits being born in December.

A last minute report: Bill Rutter of Westville Lake and Ernie Berger, a farmer in Butler Township, put up 10 rabbits Saturday and bagged four; also one cock bird.

THE MOURNING DOVE is one of the most important migratory game birds in the United States but in Ohio present state laws do not permit Ohio hunters to participate in dove hunting. As a result, thousands of hours of outdoor recreation and pound upon pound of delicate meat are lost to Ohio sportsmen.

It has been known for some time that Ohio is one of the top producing dove states. Many of the Ohio reared doves, however, migrate south and afford recreation for hunters in other states.

In 1955 some 19 million doves were harvested in the United States while during the same period the duck kill was only about 15 million.

Ohio mourning doves could provide an outdoor sport which would probably far overshadow duck hunting since doves occur generally throughout the state. Ohio Wildlife officials point out, Waterfowl, on the other hand, generally occur in greatest numbers only in local areas.

N. Carolina State Aggies Win Again

By DON WEISS
By The Associated Press
College basketball is only now shaking out the kinks of a spring and summer layoff but already there's a familiar look to it.

Like death and taxes, North Carolina State and Oklahoma A&M always are around winning and hotshots like Lemnis Rosenbluth and Hot Rod Hundley are finding the round hoop easy pickings for the round ball.

State got off to a good start Tuesday night, spinning in 51 points in the second half to defeat a tough Wake Forest club 73-63 after trailing by five points at halftime.

The Aggies, held off a late rally to defeat Baylor of the Southwest Conference 52-51.

Rosenbluth broke two North Carolina scoring records as he dropped in 47 points, including 20 field goals, during a 94-66 victory over Furman.

Hundley, scoring 25 as West Virginia romped over Florida State 89-54, ran his career total to 1,557 points—four more than Mark Workman collected for the Mountaineers during three seasons of work from 1950 through 1952.

Indiana, another consistent power, also turned up a top performer in 6-8 Archie Dees, a junior who scored 28 points and grabbed 25 rebounds in defeating Valparaiso 64-57.

Greenford Loses First Game of Year

McDonald handed Greenford its first defeat of the season Tuesday night 64-56 in a game played on the McDonald floor.

McDonald led all the way, with quarter scores of 15-14, 32-29, and 51-39.

Herschel Izy, John Stare, and Richard May were the top scorers for the victors, with 19, 13 and 13 points, respectively. Jerry Hendricks, Dave Hiner and Jack Brudler had 17, 14 and 14 markers, respectively, for the losers.

The Greenford reserves won the preliminary game 27-26.

Greenford's next game will be at home against Jackson-Milton Friday.

Machen, Summerlin Box Tonight On TV

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Favorite Eddie Machen is looking for a victory over Johnny Summerlin tonight to move him closer to a crack at Floyd Patterson's newly won heavyweight crown.

Jim Norris and his International Boxing Club have suggested it might be a good idea to have the 24-year-old Machen meet Hurricane Jackson to determine a heavyweight contender.

Summerlin hasn't figured in the discussion.

Cus D'Amato, Patterson's manager, has indicated that he likes the idea of a bout with Jackson but that he would accept whatever bout Norris promoted—provided it wasn't too soon.

Indications are that Patterson won't defend his title until June at the earliest.

One of his first opponents may be the winner of a Machen-Jackson fight.

Machen, a Californian is ranked sixth nationally. He is undefeated in 18 pro fights. Summerlin, 24, is ranked eighth in the NBA ratings. He is from Detroit and has a 30-6-2 record.

The bout is scheduled for 10 p.m. (EST) in the War Memorial and will be televised over ABC.

Eight carloads containing 68 thoroughbreds checked in at Hialeah in one day in November to prepare for the winter meeting.

Teammate Same Size Helps Athlete Compete
MELBOURNE (AP)—Sandra Rudderick of Indianapolis delayed competition today in the women's gymnastic events when her competing apparel was momentarily lost.

After several minutes, Mrs. Rudderick raced out of the women's locker room, properly attired and ready for competition in the uneven parallel bar event. But her teammate, Judy Howe of Rochester, Pa., who is about the same size as Mrs. Rudderick, remained in the locker room.

Americans Win 100-Meter Butterfly; Breen Sets Record

U.S. Swimmers Try To Offset Point Splurge By Russians

U.S. Holds 20-Point Lead In Olympics

MELBOURNE (AP)—United States athletes maintained a 20 point edge over Russian stars after Wednesday competition in the Melbourne Olympics. The United States had 538½ to 518½ with three days to go. Points are awarded on the basis of 10 for first place, five for second, etc.
Russia outscored the Yanks for the day 34-48½. The U. S. retained the over-all lead, under the American point system, but by only a 20-point margin, 538½ to 518½.
Under the European scoring system, Russia took the lead 451-445½. The European system awards 7 points for a first, the American system awards 10 points.
The first 10:
United States 538½; Russia 518½; Australia 200½; Germany 190; Hungary 163; Britain 162½; Italy 140; Sweden 131; Rumania 94; France 85½.

cord in a 1,500-meter heat as Uncle Sam's swimmers did their best tonight to offset a Russian point splurge in the Olympic games.

Two American girls, 16-year-old Nancy June Ramey of Mercer Island, Wash. and 17-year-old Mary Sane Sears of Chevy Chase, Md. followed the 19-year-old Miss Mann to the finish in that order.

America just missed another gold medal when Carin Cone, a 16-year-old high school junior from Ridgewood N. J., was nipped by Great Britain's Judy Grinham in the 100-meter backstroke finals. Both girls were clocked in 1 minute 12.9 seconds, surpassing the Olympic record that had been hung up in a heat earlier by Britain's Margaret Edwards who finished third.

Only an inch or two separated the British girl from the American.

Miss Mann's performance and a winning effort by skipper Herb Williams Kathleen, gave the U.S. two goldmedals for the day.

Breen's time of 17:52.9 in the 1,500 broke the old world record of 17:59.5 set by Australia's Murray Rose, Oct. 30.

Breen, a 20-year-old grad of Cortland (N. Y.) Teachers College lapped three of his competitors in his fine effort.

Dick Connor of Pasadena, Calif. led the men platform divers after the six qualifying dives just ahead of Mexico's Joaquin Capilla.

It is up to the swimmers and divers to carry the point burden all by themselves in the next-to-last day of full competition while the Russians grind out more wins in gymnastics.

The women's 400-meter relay team is one of eight finalists but Australia's quartet of sprinters is expected to grab the gold medal. No American survived the trial heats in the men's 200-meter breaststroke event but Uncle Sam is given a good chance in the 100-meter backstroke event.

Russians women's gymnastic team has been piling up points all through the long day but the U.S. swimmers were doing their best to keep Uncle Sam out front in the unofficial point table.

Five women broke the Olympic record in the trials for the 400-meter free style race with Australia's Lorraine Crapp clocked in 5:00.2, the best time. Among those to smash the old standard was Marley Shriver of Glendale, Calif. who was timed in 5:07.6.

Sylvia Ruuska of Berkeley, Calif. also qualified for Friday's final with Miss Shriver, three Australians, two Hungarians and a French girl. Susan Gray of Washington was eliminated although she finished second to Miss Crapp in her heat.

America picked up 17 points in the five yachting events finally completed today after seven days of competition. The United States won the Star Class with Kathleen, skippered by Herb Williams of Evanston, Ill. and John Marvin of Marblehead, Mass. finished third in the Dinghy Finn Class. The other point - winner for Uncle Sam was Rush IV, skippered by Ferdinand Schoettle, Jr. of Philadelphia which finished fourth in the 5.5-meter class.

Sweden won the Dragon Class with Slaghoken II and the 5.5 meters with Rush V. New Zealand's jet took the sharpie gold medal after Australia's Falcon IV was disqualified on France's protest and Paul Elvstrom of Denmark, who won the Dinghy Finn Class in both 1948 and 1952, made it three in a row.
America's Dragon entry, Spirit III, skippered by Eugene Walet of New Orleans was 11th in the final race of the seven - race series and finished ninth in the standings. The U. S. Sharpie boat, Tineck, with Eric Olsen of Essex, Conn., was ninth in the seventh race and not among point winners in the overall standings.

The Russian women piled it on in gymnastics, taking 17 points in one event, the vaulting horse with a 1-2-5 finish in the competition won by Larisa Latyina. She tied with Agnes Keleti of Hungary and both were given gold medals in the free standing event.

Although Miss Keleti of Hungary took the parallel bars and the balanced beam events, Larisa Latyina won the gold medal for combined aggregate score and Russia clinched the team championship in women gymnastics. The U. S. team was last with one event to go.

Neither gold medal in shooting was won by a Russian. Romania's Stefan Petrescu tied the world's record with a 587 score in the silhouette event and Canada's Gerald Ouellette hung up a perfect 600 score to win the small bore rifle shooting from prone position.

America's three entrants in the individual sabre fencing class were eliminated while Russia qualified one for the final round. George Worth and Allan Kwartler were beaten in the semi-finals and Dr. Tibor Nyilas lost in the second round pool. All three are from New York.

Russia's water polo team whipped the United States 3-1 in a game in the final pool. Bill Ross of Whittier, Calif. scored the lone American goal.

Saturday's soccer final was set up between Russia and Yugoslavia when the Russians fought their way past Bulgaria 2-1 in an overtime semi-final match. Yugoslavia eliminated India Tuesday.

The last five survivors of the inexperienced U. S. Greco-Roman wrestling team all were eliminated in the third round of competition. The double - losers were flyweight John Wilson of Washington, Pa. bantam Kent Townley of Sioux City, Iowa, welter Jay Holt of Oakland, Calif., middleweight Jim Peckham of Braintree, Mass., and light heavy Dale Thomas of Corvallis, Ore. The three other members had been eliminated earlier.

Best series at home for the Milwaukee Braves in 1956 was with Cincinnati. Ten playing dates attracted 349,896 fans to County Stadium.

Ollie Matson Nears Ground Gaining Lead

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Ollie Matson, the brilliant runner of the Chicago Cardinals, is making a determined last ditch effort to win ground gaining honors in the National Football League.

Matson, one of the finest all-around backs in NFL history, gained 70 yards last Sunday to increase his seasonal ground gain to 818 yards on 161 attempts and a 5.1 average. He is one yard behind Rick Casares of the Chicago Bears.

These cross-town rivals meet head-on Sunday as the Bears and Cardinals clash in an NFL game important to the title chances of both teams.

In passing, the Bears' Eddie Brown held onto his leadership although his average gain per pass dropped from 11.29 to 10.65, a lead now of two yards per pass over second place Bill Wade of Los Angeles. Brown has thrown 139 passes and completed 85 for 1,481 yards, 10 touchdowns and a 61.2 percentage of completions.
Detroit's Bobby Layne moved from seventh to third place in passing on the wings of a fine performance against the Bears.

In other departments:
Billy Wilson, San Francisco, tops the pass receivers with 47 for 765 yards and three TDs.
Layne maintained his scoring leadership and now has 90 points, 5 TDs, 27 conversions and 11 field goals. Casares with 78 points on 13 TDs is second.

Norman Van Brocklin of Los Angeles, for the third week in a row, is the top punter with a 42.7 per punt average.
Lindon Crow of the Cardinals and Herb Hacker of Washington are tied for pass interceptions honors with eight each.

Rate Tiller, Williams Top Ohio Gridders

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Jim Tiller of Fremont Ross and Bob Williams of Canton McKinley today were rated Ohio's best high school football players for the 1956 season.

In a recap of votes cast in The Associated Press all-Ohio selections, they led the list by comfortable margins.

Tiller, with 30 touchdowns for the year and 62 for his career, was the No. 1 back. Williams, highest-scoring end in McKinley history, was the No. 1 lineman.

The Fremont Flash, although 20 straight foes in the last two years as his team bowled over, under, around or through only 5-9 and weighing 155, ran years. He won the state high here last spring, and has been school 10-yard dash in 9.8 seconds going at top speed since.

Williams, at 6-2 and 195, proved a great blocker, pass-catcher, end-around ball-carrier and defensive stalwart as he became the only all-Ohio repeater from 1955. He was the highest-scoring end in McKinley's long career.

Mickey Mantle is the first to lead the American League in home runs two years in succession since 1942 when Ted Williams did it.

Alliance Hits Jackpot On Good Quarterbacks

Len Dawson

Mel Knowlton

ALLIANCE, Ohio (AP) — Mel Knowlton must feel good about the outcome of the Purdue-Illinois football game. He was rooting for both sides. It was a 7-7 tie.
Knowlton, coach of the Alliance year-old sophomore at Illinois, both came from Alliance.

In the 38th meeting between the Big Ten rivals (Illini leads 19-14-5) Dawson stood out. He scored all his team's points while making the 27th touchdown pass of his collegiate career. He completed 9 of 13 passes with 2 intercepted.

At least Offenbecher, who broke into his first collegiate game when he helped upset Michigan State the previous week, had none intercepted. The six-foot 170-pounder completed two of eight passes.
Offenbecher is the third Knowlton quarterback to make the Big Ten. John Borton, now in the Navy, in Florida, played for Ohio State, and has already been invited to train with the Cleveland Browns next summer.

What does Knowlton seek in a quarterback?

"It is terrific desire, plus natural ability, but desire is above all else," says Knowlton. "The boys have to have it in themselves. The coaching staff can help bring it out, but we cannot make a diamond out of a boy who does not want to be a diamond. It is a desire to work hard to be the best that makes a fellow the best."

"Borton was a very good passer here. He was also a high type youth. He had that terrific desire to make good."

"Dawson probably was 32nd on a squad of 33, but he said he wanted to be better than Borton, and he worked until he achieved what he wanted."

Offenbecher perhaps did not have as much ability as either Borton or Dawson, but he was another one who worked hard to get the job done, and he got it done."

Another Knowlton quarterback is Ted Davidson, who this season played freshman football at the University of Toledo.

"Two other pretty good ones were Ted McFall and Paul Varley," reminds Knowlton. "They also had the desire. Their only handicap was size. McFall did well at Mount Union and d'Varley went to Kentucky, but was hurt and dropped out."

Another Knowlton product, Purdue halfback Tom Barnett, also played in that 7-7 tie. Knowlton says he rooted for all three. It looks like he hit the jackpot.

Charlie Hodge, goaltender for the Rochester Americans, was only 21 when he played in the 1955 Stanley Cup playoffs for the Montreal Canadiens.

Syracuse's 7 - 1 football record during 1956 was the best for the Orange school since 1923 when the team posted an 8-1 mark.
Eddie Machen, Redding, Calif., heavyweight, knocked out 14 of his first 18 professional opponents. Michigan State and Purdue are even in their football series — five victories each with one tie.

FURILLO HAS APPENDECTOMY
READING, PA. (AP)—Carl Furillo, veteran Brooklyn Dodgers outfielder, was reported in good condition today after an emergency appendectomy Tuesday night.

Authorities at Community General Hospital said Furillo, 33, came through the operation "in good shape." They said he would remain in the hospital a week or 10 days.

A native of southeastern Pennsylvania, Furillo raises cattle on a farm near Reading.

Chief Clearwater say:
"River water belong in river . . . not in beer bottle"

Did you ever wonder why some people buy bottled well water? It's because they can't stand the taste of chemically treated river water. You know what that taste is like.

The water in beer is awfully important, too, so we do not use river water for Fort Pitt. We use water from our own deep wells. In fact, Fort Pitt Special is the only Pittsburgh beer brewed with pure artesian well water. That's one of the big reasons why it tastes better. Try a case today.

Filbert Cookies Yule Tradition

Christmas cookies on your mind?

Then here are two fine recipes. One of them is a praline - type sweet - crisp and nutty. The other is similar to a cookie our grandmothers used to make: rich butter dough is shaped into small balls and a finger is pressed into the center of each to make an indentation. As soon as the cookies come from the oven, the centers are filled with semi-sweet chocolate pieces and filberts. Magically enough, the hot cookies melt the chocolate and the nuts stay in place. Both these cookies were a great success in our household, so we urge you to try them.

In taking the praline cookies from the pans, follow directions and remember that practice makes perfect. One other caution: don't substitute light brown sugar for the dark brown sugar called for. We made this recipe with both sorts of sugar and find they are greatly superior with the latter. The filberts, too, toast slightly in the oven and give these cookies a special flavor.

Chocolate Filbert Thumbprints
Ingredients: 1/2 cup butter or margarine, 1/2 cup sifted confectioners' sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 cup sifted flour, semi-sweet chocolate pieces, shelled filberts (whole or cut in half).

Method: Cream together the butter, confectioners' sugar and vanilla. Blend in flour with beater or spoon; chill. Using 2 teaspoons of the dough for each cookie, make into small balls. Place on ungreased cookie sheet and make an indentation in the center of each with a finger. (Indentations will widen during baking.) Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven until straw colored around the edges - 10 to 15 minutes. Remove from oven; working quickly, while cookies are still very hot and on pan, place semi-sweet chocolate pieces and filberts in indentations. Remove to racks to cool. Chocolate will melt from heat of cookies and keep filberts in place. Makes 24 cookies. Recipe may be doubled if desired.

Filbert Praline Cookies

Ingredients: 1 egg, 3 tablespoons butter or margarine (melted), 1 cup firmly-packed dark brown sugar, 1 cup thinly sliced filberts, 1/4 cup flour, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Method: Beat egg with rotary beater (hand or electric) until thick and ivory colored. Mix together the melted butter, brown sugar, beaten egg, sliced filberts, flour and vanilla. Drop by teaspoonfuls on greased and floured cookie sheet, 4 to 5 inches apart, to allow for spreading. (Cookies will be very thin when baked.) Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven until edges begin to brown - 6 to 8 minutes. Allow to cool 1 minute or so on cookie sheet before removing carefully with wide spatula to rack. If cookies get very crisp before you have removed them all, put the pan back in the oven for a few seconds and they will soften; then remove them as suggested. Makes 3 to 3 1/2 dozen cookies.

Other Ways With Filberts
Sweet Spread - Filberts are delicious added to a winter conserve of fresh cranberries and raisins or canned crushed pineapple and dried apricots.

Favorite Cakes - Try adding chopped filberts to a standard recipe for applesauce or banana cake.

With Coffee - You'll have a wonderful topping for coffee-cake (made with baking powder) if, before baking, you sprinkle the batter with finely chopped filberts mixed with brown sugar.

Cookie Bars - Filberts may be used in chocolate or butterscotch brownies.

Lunchbox Treat - Pack shelled filberts into that school lunchbox along with a red apple and a milk chocolate bar. Good tasting trio!

When In Paris

By JOSEPH E. DYNAN
(For Hal Boyle)

PARIS — It's not easy, but you can get California wine in Paris.

Two Americans found this out at the cost of much cajoling and several fistfuls of francs. They had read that Louis Vaudable, proprietor of Maxim's Restaurant, told Los Angeles newsmen: "Of course, we have California wines in Paris—and they are excellent. It's simply that no one orders them."

Well, Vaudable is perhaps two-thirds right.

A visit to Maxim's brought these results:

At first the sommelier (wine steward) was rather definite. No, Maxim's had no California wine. In fact, Maxim's had no foreign wines. No Spanish wines. No Portuguese wines. Well, yes, they did have a few German Rhine wines, but they were for German tourists.

There was a hurried consultation, a long pause, a long absence, and behold, there were two dusty bottles of California white from Vaudable's own private collection. It seems.

Soon there was a crowd of waiters around the table. They were curious about this strange vintage. They were more curious about the people who might order it. Well, you know how Americans are. Would they have a sip? Curiosity was stronger than disdain.

"A little small", commented a sommelier as he took a sip. Another remarked that it seemed a trifle "flatter" than the French equivalent but that it was more agreeable when very cold. Another said that it seemed "lighter" than French white.

The boys were doing their level best to be polite.

When it came time for red wine, the sommelier came up with a Louis Martini Napa Barbera 1942. The headwaiter, Albert, came over to oversee this. Good color, he conceded. Albert bravely asserted that Maxim's had had California wine for years and had been serving it all the time to connoisseurs.

An assistant dropped tact. It wasn't bad, he said, but why should anyone come all the way from the United States to drink California wine?

2 Children Perish In Columbus Fire

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Two small children died today in the flaming second floor bedroom of their suburban Linden home while their parents slept in a first floor bedroom.

Police Lt. Charles W. Clover identified the children as Thomas Koch, 5, and his sister, Karen, 3. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert K. Koch.

Clover said the youngsters apparently already had died when a neighbor, Mrs. Nelson Eckert, noticed the fire. She said smoke and flames were shooting from the upstairs bedroom of the house as she called firemen. Her husband pounded on the door of the Koch home and awakened Mr. and Mrs. Koch.

Koch said "I tried to get up there, but it was a wall of flames."

Two other Koch youngsters escaped the blaze. Robert, 6, was in school, and Teresa, 3, was with her parents.

Ceramic Award To Be Made Friday

The name of the winner of the 10th annual Albert Victor Bleining memorial award for distinguished achievement in the field of ceramics will be announced Friday night by the Pittsburgh section of the American Ceramic Society.

The announcement will be made at a "split" meeting of the section, with one session at the Castleton Hotel in New Castle, Pa., and the other at the Slovak Catholic Union Hall in Ford City, Pa.

The award, symbolized by a gold medal and a scroll, will be presented at a dinner meeting March 15 at the Penn-Sheraton Hotel in Pittsburgh.

The ninth annual award went to Arthur S. Watts of Columbus, professor emeritus of ceramic engineering at Ohio State University. Author of 100 technical and scientific papers and holder of several patents, he was professor of the OSU department of ceramic engineering from 1915 until 1946, when he was named emeritus professor and ceramic consultant.

The Pittsburgh section established the award in 1948 in honor of the late Dr. A. V. Bleining, until his death about 10 years ago research director for the Homer Laughlin China Co.

It has been disclosed that 13 ceramists have been nominated for the award.

Wittenberg Faces Enrollment Problem

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio — Wittenberg College may be forced to limit the size of freshman classes if this year's 15 per cent enrollment increase continues as a trend, W. Emerson Reck, vice president and general secretary, has reported.

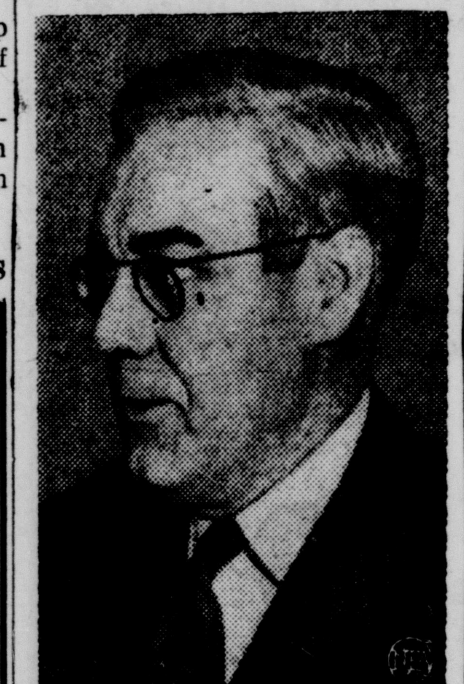

Dr. Reck said enrollment will reach 1,947 by 1959 at the rate it's going, and 2,957 by 1962. The board of directors 12 months ago set an enrollment limit of 1,900, based on facilities and funds available.

At the same time, Dr. Roland C. Matthies, vice president and treasurer, said Wittenberg's assets have increased 46 per cent in the 15-month period between June 30, 1955 and Sept. 30 of this year. He said this represents an increase from $9,076,403 to $11,786,760.

Two new members were installed on the board of directors Monday night. Edgar L. Morris, publisher of the Springfield Daily News and Sun, and Earl F. Morris, a Columbus attorney.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Some lads grow up to hurl no-hitters. Some grow up to hurl acid which makes a sure hit — like the dead truck involved in a trial now under way in New York.

Seems a newspaper fellow was blinded by this punk who four or five years ago was a teen-age delinquent of the kind we're all going to save in some fashion when we get around to it.

These muscled teen-agers love legendary figures and laready, the gendarmierie tell me, the youthful acid hurler has become a mighty myth in the candy-stores, bars and dimly lit, low-ceilinging night spots he used to frequent when he couldn't pick a pocket or mug some Dostoevskian dame of the night.

Such characters make up the kind of gangs now roaming the cities of the world — even "proletarian" Moscow where they use the militia and brutal "corrective" labor camps to cure this terror by night.

ALL KIDS are born equal — and clean, too. When they wind up in the gutter, it's too late for the tears of relatives who seem to develop some reverse resentment against the system which beat their boy and even against the victim for having gotten in the way of some concentrated acid.

So I've been watching for those good Samaritans who try to stop that jet journey between the cradle and the grave.

The other day my good friend, Jackie Bright, leader of the nation's vaudevillians in the American Guild of Variety Artists, AFL-CIO, came up with an idea that might help.

His union people are looking for deserved support for their project and some of the multi-million dollar national unions might want to know all about it. Says Jackie Bright:

"The American Guild of Variety Artists is sponsoring a movement to start a 'Juvenile Delinquency Fund,' for the purpose of combating this evil in a manner we feel will appeal to teen-agers, take them off the streets and make them 'the good citizens of tomorrow' that all decent law abiding citizens want them to be."

The vaudevillians' union plans to start its private anti-delinquency drive in New York and then fan out to other big cities if their campaign takes hold.

"WE AIM to present a series of variety shows weekly in every borough with ticket distribution through the public and high schools. To start, five shows weekly will be given, one in each borough, with the shows to be presented in different parts of town each succeeding week.

"In addition to the show itself, we will secure the appearance of sports and other celebrities who will appeal to the teen-agers and bring them out in force, thus taking them off the streets and keeping them out of mischief."

What the vaudevillians want are contributions of candy, soft drinks, prizes and other gimmicks to bring the teen-agers in to beat their palms and cut a rug instead of beating some skull and cutting up each other.

If this succeeds in New York, there will be a pilot pattern for the rest of the country — but it can fail unless the big unions uncork some of their big treasures.

There are 70,000 local unions throughout the nation and these can launch programs of their own. Far be it from me to tell anyone how to spend his union's money. But let me make a point here.

IF THESE TEEN-AGERS grow up tough, they grow up to become the "troops" of the underworld, the same underworld which moves in on the unions.

At first the youngsters are just musclemen trying to pick up ten or fifteen dollars a day for a fast organization job someplace. Then they become a steady pack which has to be cared for — or else. Mobs move on muscle — and it must be young muscle.

Many of the unions with multi-million dollar treasuries today are throwing their money into housing projects, which is fine. But if you just remake the slums without remaking much of its youth, you're just rehousing them in better style.

So let's give the vaudevillians' union a big hand.
